The Comptroller's proposal may, it seems be approved, with the modification that in respect of the Tamilian Dy, the majority other than Lakkavalli & Hiriyadahalli will be semi-malnad - (Vide art 630 M.S.R)

In this connection it should be borne in notice that the question of abolishing the Special Commission as in art 634 note 2 is also under consideration of Govt - as also reduction of the higher rates for handling in Malnad parts, while there seems to be no objection to recognise Specifying the M.S.R. the Semi malnad parts in which the higher rates are being allowed in practice pending consideration of that question -

A slight revision of the Malnad basis - list as in the M.S.R is also under consideration -

In fact - this question was a new contention point - In the proposed revision of the list - Kunigal majority becomes pucca malnad - for purpose of tax -

Serial No. 16)

The conflict in the several G.O.s referred to in the preceding paras is probably due to the fact that in fixing allowances, Khists, etc the Govt took into consideration, on each occasion, only a few of the several drawbacks that render concessions necessary. For instance in granting local allowances to certain officers the badness of the climate & cost of living alone were alone taken into consideration. In determining travelling allowances the difficulties of transport & obtaining means of conveyances were probably taken into account.

The rules as they stand are anomalous and require modification.

All the tracts which are now included in the Malnad Improvement scheme may be taken as Malnad tracts.

the semi-malnad tracts, the distinction of malnad and semi-malnad has no significance for purposes of travelling Allowance rules. There is accordingly no objection in defining localities as coming under malnad or semi-malnad for regulating the grant of travelling allowance. The abolition of this distinction would make the rules on the subject more intelligible.

What is wanted is a complete enumeration of the localities which should be treated as special so that enhanced daily allowance may be allowed for journeys and halts in them. The localities may be called special tracts. It has to be settled what localities should be treated as such tracts. As stated by the Revenue Secretary in his note dated 11-2-1919 a semi-malnad taluk means that it is partly malnad and partly maidan and not that it is a kind of locality different from both maidan and malnad. I think that if more than half of a taluk is malnad, it may be treated as a special tract for purposes of travelling allowances. If the malnad area is less than half, I think, it may be treated as a maidan taluk. The present definition of malnad tracts in Kadur and Hassan Districts contained in Art. 633.M.S.R. specifies particular areas of taluks as forming malnad parts and it does not help much in the audit of claims as the Audit Office is not in a position to say whether halts and journeys for which special rates of daily allowance are claimed are made really in localities coming under the definition. If the above proposal is accepted, ~~kxa~~ the rule in regard to special tracts will be simple and easy of application.

SIR,

I have the honor to state that the names of the Malnad tra in the State are specified in Art. 633, Mysore Service Regulations; but the names of Semi-Malnad tracts referred to in Note 2 to Art.63 are no where specified in the Mysore Service Regulations.

2. In this connection, I may state that G.O. No.J.1004-Pol.55-06 1 dated the 24th October 1906 which directed a census of all fire-arms to be taken in Malnad and Semi-Malnad areas contains an exhaustive list of such areas in the State and as the Malnad areas are specified in Art. 633 Mysore Service Regulations, the areas shown in the margin are treated as Semi-Malnad, in actual practice, for the purpose of Note 2 to Art.634, Mysore Service Regulations.

3. The omission to specify the Semi-Malnad tracts in the travell allowance portion of the Service Regulations has, however, given rise to frequent and unnecessary correspondence and I have therefore to request you will be so good as to cause the same incorporated as -- Article 633A by issuing an addendum slip to the Service Regulations

To

K. R. Sreenivasa Iyengar, Esq., M.A., Revenue Commissioner in Mysore,

Sir,

The question of revising and clearly specifying areas, entitling officers of Government to claim special rates of travelling allowance under Art.634 of the Mysore Service Regulations, has been under the consideration of Government for some time past. The present definition of Malnad tracts as contained in Art.633, Mysore Service Regulation, under which specified parts of Taluks are treated as Malnad does not help much in the audit of travelling allowance bills as the Audit Office will not be in a position to decide definitely whether halts and journeys for which special rates of daily allowances are claimed are really in the localities coming under the definition. To simplify the rules and make them more clear, Government desire that a list completely enumerating the localities which should be treated as special for purposes of admitting enhanced rates of allowance for journeys and halts in them should be made in and that in preparing this list regard should be had to the following consideration.—

If more than half a taluk is Malnad, the entire taluk should be treated as a special tract for purposes of enhanced travelling al-
